Archway Learning Trust

- Location: Nottingham/Derby
- Start date: Negotiable
- Salary: L17 – L21

Archway Learning Trust is a growing family of primary and secondary academies located across Nottingham and Derby. All our schools believe passionately in the transformational power of education – and to deliver this we are seeking to appoint a passionate and knowledgeable SEND expert to join our successful and values-led Multi Academy Trust.

It's an incredibly exciting time to join us. In this newly developed post, you will take on the role of lead professional and subject matter expert responsible for the quality and assessment of SEND provision across the Trust. Our new Trust SEND Lead will work in partnership with the Executive Leadership Team, Principals and academy colleagues, to shape Trust SEND strategy and the consistent delivery of provision at a local level - accelerating improvements, raising standards and providing exceptional support to enhance the learning experience of all young people.

You will be a skilled communicator and strong advocate for the children and families we serve. Through this commitment, you will build and develop positive relationships with relevant Local Authority and partner organisations – ensuring that appropriate placements and provision are in place and that we are able to deliver the highest levels of inclusion, attainment and achievement across the Trust.

As our new Trust SEND Lead, you will be a champion for inclusive, high quality provision and seek to instil a tenacious drive for excellence across our family of schools; modelling best practice, celebrating success and challenging expectations through effective developmental leadership and coaching.

In return, we can offer you a fantastic working environment within an ambitious and growing trust. You will have the opportunity to work with a talented team of like-minded leaders to drive change in a fast paced and morally driven organisation.
